Ex Libris

A pensive moment Brings A Smile

We dedicate the Mirror to tw

The class of 1966 wishes to dedicate the Mirror to our housemaster, Mr. Joseph Levey, to acknowledge the help and understanding he has given us in our formative years. We feel his guidance and extra efforts have contributed to a greater appreciation of the importance of our senior year. We have been proud to have as our housemaster, Mr. Levey, a man with whom we hope we have left indelible memories.

Working

and relaxing .

People who are dedicated

The members of the class of 1966 wish to acknowledge the efforts of Mr. Timothy M. Fitzgerald. A very versatile person, Mr. Fitzgerald has worked for the class at the time-consuming job of an advisor to the Mirror and the Talent Show. He has worked with the class, never forgetting his job, as a Math teacher, a human being, and a friend. With great respect and gratitude, we wish to dedicate the 1966 Mirror to the man with whom we hope memories of us will linger, as we, from his contributions, go on to a successful life, the path of which he has helped to pave.

As a teacher . . .

and a sports fan.

A pensive moment Brings A Smile

FOREWORD

Is it possible that our senior year is over? Can it be that our school years are truly gone? Many experiences have been foremost in our senior year. The Mirror has attempted to capture all the learning, fun, worry, victory, heartaches, hard work, expectations and accomplishments which were the highlights of our high school career. We hope that the many hours we have spent on the 1966 Mirror have fulfilled our desire to paint a picture of those years which you will want to remember as the best!

MIRROR MESSAGE

I am pleased that you have chosen to dedicate your yearbook to your housemaster, Mr. F. Joseph Levey. He has truly worked hard with you since September 1963 and your class is a credit to him. He and your teachers are people with a touch of immortality in that you will direct others from their examples and they in turn will guide others ad infinitum.

As 1966 marks the end of your stay and mine at Waltham High School, although from a different age level, we can all optimistically face our future with hope. As Robert Frost advises:

> "The woods are lovely, dark and deep
> And I have many miles to go before I sleep."

Remember always our days at Waltham High School as they are reflected in this Mirror of 1966.

To The Class of 1966:

Congratulations and best wishes to every member of this year's graduating class.

Twelve years of formal school education are now behind you and you have played your part very well in bringing about your development to young manhood. You have provided yourselves with a base for future learning on the job or in a post-secondary program to continue your education.

I sincerely hope that all of you will continue to seek additional aid for more education and to acquire a greater thirst for knowledge. In your future years, these values will spread and contribute in many ways to the well being of all citizens in Waltham, in this state, and throughout the United States.

The graduates of 1966 will be a source of pride to the faculty, to the school, and to the city.

Sincerely,

Lloyd F. Van Arsdale

IN MEMORIAM

MR. HENRY KLEIN

Perhaps in the artist's silence of a brush on canvas, we will miss him most. In these quiet contemplations, we will remember sorrowfully the loss of Mr. Klein, a dynamic man, filled with an inner bravado as brilliant as the colors he painted, and driven by the somberness of an artist's serious devotion to his work. Never believing in the mechanics of brush plus paint equals picture, Mr. Klein taught us far greater lessons. He held our innate love of creation above our individual talents. An inspiration and a guide, he gave us beauty and taught us to love it.

A Salutation

Examining life, we find that two things, regardless of what transpires, can never be taken away from us—character and education.

Keeping this in mind, we salute two people, retiring from the Waltham Public School System, who have shown us the way to develop character and gain a good education.

In appreciation, we salute Mr. William Gallagher, who, as a diligent teacher and our present headmaster, has produced admirable efforts in giving a part of his life, so that past and present students of Waltham schools could benefit from his part in our learning processes and our character development.

With our utmost respect, we salute Miss Arline Darmedy, who, after forty-one years of faithful service to the Waltham 'Public School System, has helped to educate the youths who, in their lives as adults, will never forget her efforts to teach the history of our country. With the education she has given us, we hope we have gained the insight to develop characters fine enough to continue the heritage of a country of which we want her always to be proud.

Brown-eyed Bob, a veteran of St. Mary's, likes hamburgers in the W.H.S. cafe. Wally, Ron, and Buster know history is his academic favorite. Agriculture School will mould Bob a future career upon graduation. We think he'll make a fine civic-minded farmer.

JOHN BACE
402 Lincoln Street
College II

If John isn't busy enjoying a good pot roast dinner, most likely he's working on his car. Cars are John's favorite hobby and his friends Buddy, Dave, and Debbie will attest to that. "Gym is the greatest at W.H.S.," says John, "and the variations of subjects are grand." Future plans include attending engineering school and going into the Navy.

DONNA BACHELDER
70 Hawthorne Road

"Oh no!" says Wally as he stares at all the lovely girls who are walking down the corridor. Wally, who has been hardened to cafeteria food at Kennedy Junior High, sits with his friends John, Bob and Buster, enjoying the delicious spaghetti, during three of the five lunches. Wally looks forward to future plans of attending college and the service.

VIRGINIA BARNES
296 Bacon Street
College I

When not going to hockey games, "Ginny" can be found with Barb, Donna, and Fern eating a pizza. Biology class and third lunch with all the kids really rates! She plans to attend nursing school. Luck to you in everything, Ginny.

Activities: Mirror Literary and Subscription, 4; French Club, 2, 3, 4; Latin Club, 2; Pep Squad, 2, 3; Clinic Staff, 2, 3, 4; Mr. Levey's office, 2, 3, 4; FNA Secretary, 3, 4; Junior and Senior Prom Committees.

GRACE BASILE
138 Clark Street

"You're kidding" quips "Grease", who hails from South Junior, to Fran, Margie, and Maureen. Along with bowling and fried clams, "Grease" rates her shorthand classes, studies, proms, and the 2:30 bell high on her list of favorites. A secretarial school will welcome Grace!

ROBERT BASS
40 Wayne Avenue
College I

"Not quite" yells blonde, blue-eyed "Sam" to Toney, Ed, and Dave as they try to take his toasted B.L.T. "Sam" likes the eating and classroom facilities at W.H.S. and thinks the sports teams are the greatest. He is hoping to attend Northeastern University to become an engineer. We know you'll be a success!

Activities: German Club, 3, Chemistry Club, 3; Future Scientists of America, 3.

STELLA BASTARACHE
22 John Street
College II

Stella, a native of New Brunswick, enjoys her Math class most at W.H.S. She can be heard exclaiming "Oh yeah!" or asking Margie, Ray, and Carol "Are you kidding me?" Stella, an avid swimmer and letterwriter, sees marriage in the future.

CAROL BAUMANN
22 Brightwood Road
Stenographic

Brigham's chocolate ice cream cones with jimmies rate high with Carol, as Sis, Sally, and Margie will agree. A North Junior graduate, she enjoys school sports and Miss Hogarty's shorthand classes at W.H.S. the most. Business School or junior college is included in Carol's future plans.

Activities: Mirror Business Staff, 4; National Honor Society, 3, 4; Pep Squad, 2; Waltham Youth Council, 2; Talent Show, 3, 4; Cheerleader, 3, 4.

JANICE BEAGAN
25 Amherst Avenue
College II

"What a panic." cries blond "Bubbles" referring to football, basketball, and hockey games, and Mr. Prohovich. Bubbles who comes from L.S.J.H. rates Math as her favorite subject at W.H.S., as friends Janice, Joan, and Yvonne tell us. College is in her future.

Activities: Student Council, 2; Pep Squad, 4; Maroon Squad, 4; Senior Play, 4; Ski Club, 4; Dramatics Club, 2; Senior Prom Committee, 4.

FOREST BEATON
331 Grove Street
College II

"Woody" of course, is a natural nickname for this talented fellow, responsible for decorations for proms and school productions. But Woody is very content roller skating or just talking art with Tony, Steve, and Sean. It's a lucky break for the art world that "Woody" intends to go on with his artistic work.

Activities: Audio Visual Staff, 3, 4; 20th and 21st AAA Poster Contest.

LORNA-JEAN BECKWITH
200 Warren Street
College I

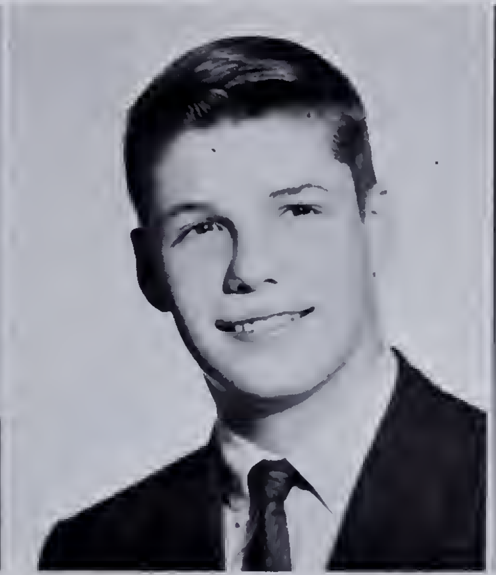
Paulette and Linda tell us this blue-eyed senior's favorite diversions are ice skating, hiking, camping, and dancing. Pizza-loving "L.J." will remember W.H.S. for her history classes and the football and basketball games. Junior college and a career in secretarial work are in her future.

Activities: Pep Squad 4; Senior Play, 4; F.T.A., 3, 4.

GEORGE BEGIN
183 Hillcroft Road
College II

Golf courses — here he comes! George is enthusiastic about most sports at W.H.S. on and off campus; golf is his major interest. Biology, sporting events, and dances are most intriguing to him. As Al, Don, and Bob know, George wants to attend college after graduation. Best of luck to this sports lover!

Activities: French Club, 2, 3; Chemistry Club, 3.



STEPHEN BEHNKE
75 Hillcroft Road
College I

"What time does this period end!" shouts brown-eyed Steve to Bill and Tom. Although Steve likes English classes, the 2:30 bell on Friday is his favorite part of the W.H.S. week. His Journalism classes proved to be very influential, as Steve's future plans include majoring in public relations in college.

Activities: Golf Team, 3, 4.

JANET BENGER
126 Brewster Road
Honors

Bright-eyed "Jan" is always busy either with one of her many activities or just "fooling around" eating twinkies or pizza with Jan, Carol, Dottie and Sally. This avid fan of our football and basketball teams participates in sailing, riding, swimming, and skiing.

ANDREA BERNARDI
35 Gregory Street
Business

"See me later" shouts Andy to friends Karen, Diane, and Carol. Coming to us from Kennedy Jr. High, dancing, cooking, and Italian food, are tops on this senior's list of fun. The people and the 2:30 bell are what she enjoys most about W.H.S. Her future plans include attending business and hairdressing school.

THOMAS BERRY
199 Russell Street
College I

When Tom was asked about his favorite food, he replied enthusiastically "Everything!" This blue-eyed blond-haired senior is a North Junior graduate. Ralph, Ken, and Al frequently hear Tommy say, "So what do you think!" as he whizzes past them to P.O.D., his favorite class. Tom is planning a future as an aeronautical technician. We wish the best of luck to him.

Activities: Basketball Team, 2, 3, 4.

ALBERT BERTRAND
83 Plympton Street
College II

"Ya, right?" says Al when offered steak by friends Mark, Neil, and Joe. Al likes his technical drawing class at W.H.S. but would prefer horseback riding anytime. His future includes his going into a branch of the service.

BARBARA BILANSKY
19 Francis Street
College I

When not tackling her homework enthusiastically, Barbara can be found making her own clothes or knitting with Janet, Mary, and Ruth. Spending the summer with underprivileged children proved to be exciting to Barbara. She intends to become a language teacher.

Activities: French Club, 4; German Club, 4; F.T.A., 2, 3, 4; Language Lab, 4; Main Office Staff, 4; Senior Play Committee, 4.

DENNIS BLACK
25 Chase Road
Vocational Printing

Dennis is the Vocational Representative on the Waltham Youth Council. Although he likes English, his favorite saying is "life begins at 2:30". Dennis, a loyal Hawk fan, always stopped his favorite hobby, sleeping, long enough to root the football team on. Our best wishes go to this brown-haired senior.

Activities: Waltham Youth Council, 4.

RICHARD BLACK
150 Trapelo Road
College II

Down goes another watermelon as "Dickie" hurries off to English class. Cafeteria food of all kinds is best loved by Dick, as friends John, Jimmy and Rick know. This college preparatory senior has plans for further education after graduation.

ANTHONY BONICA
73 Taylor Street
Auto Mechanics

"Tony" really looks forward to shop in Auto Mechanics. He thinks cars are "neat" but enjoys eating pizza with Dick, Bob, and Mike. Tony's favorites are boating and water skiing. We wish brown-eyed Tony luck in his future career as a truck mechanic

JANET BLASIOLI
37 Berdshire Road
Stenographic

"Oh, my nerves," shouts "Tootsie" to friends Elli, Lorraine, and Kinny. This creative senior rates arts and crafts, bowling, and eating (another pizza-lover), at the top of her list. She enjoys art classes, football games, dances, and field trips best at W.H.S. Her future plans include Rittness School of Floral Designing.

Activities: Art awards, 2, 3, 4.

BRENT BONNYMAN
9 Parmenter Road
College I

If Brent had his way, we'd stay in homeroom all day or he'd settle for Mr. Winchell's earth science classes. During his spare time, Brent likes to fish, collect coins, and hike. In the future we may find this geologist searching the layers of the earth for priceless stone.

WILLIAM BOISVERT
9 Meadow Lane
College I

Having the ordinary hair and eye color of brown hasn't caused "Captain" to be ordinary. Billy can easily put a smile on unhappy faces. He can be seen going to his favorite class, P.O.D. with John, Bat, and Bodenks, or engaging in numerous sports activities. His future plans include a happy college career.

Activities: Junior Achievement, 3, 4; President, 4.

LOIS BORGES
285 Newton Street
Honors

Popular Lois often tells Loxie, Marcia, and Petie, "You're kidding." She enjoys math with "Mr. Fitz", hockey games, and riding "around." This sub-enthusiast plans to be a French teacher after her college days

MARY BRANDT
71 Dix Street

College I

"What? It's two thirty!" says Mary, our artistic senior, when the last period bell rings. Besides enjoying eating lunch (especially brownies) with Susan, Marilyn and Kathy, Mary also likes her German class. Painting and drawing keep her busy now as they will in a career in fashion design after college.

JOHN A. BRAY, JR.
27 Clements Road

Honors

"In your heart you know I'm right", declares history minded Jack protesting against over-crowded third lunches. Jack enjoys a good thick steak with friends Don, Bob, and John when not in his favorite history class with Mr. Richman or Math class with Mr. Fitz. This history-minded senior looks forward to a future in political science.

Activities: Mirror Literary Staff, 4; Chemistry Club, 4; Debating Club, 3, 4; Spanish Club, 3; U.N. Forum, 4, President; History Award 3.

CHERYL BREAULT
16 Hatherly Road

College II

"Cher" can be seen after school eating a strawberry sundae while listening to her favorite records. She is often accompanied from English to Mr. Franco's French class by Yvonne, Debbie, and Kathy. Maybe someday Waltham will be lucky enough to have this future teacher as a member of its faculty!

Activities: Pep Squad, 2.

JANET BREHM
40 Copeland Street

Honors

"Don't be absurd!" scoffs Janet while tearing around Waltham with Carol, Jan, Sally, and Dottie. T. L.'s math IV honors class is her favorite, while pizza, coke, subs and other health foods top her likes. Mr. Boyd's homeroom and basketball and football games best at Waltham High. tic club, 2; Prom Committee, 3, 4.

JOAN CALLAHAN
386 Forest Street
College I

Who's the blond with the crew in the Spy Wagon? Why, it's Joanie, our Senior Treasurer. Joanie loves talking, as Les will agree, if she hasn't got a mouth full of lasagna. Our "spy" likes all the football, basketball, and hockey games at W.H.S. best. Second in her line of favorites is her math class. Does this mean we have another math teacher on our hands?

Activities: Senior Treasurer, 4; Literary Staff, 4; Pep Squad, 2, 3; Junior Prom Committee, 3; Senior Prom Committee, 4.

JOHN CALSON
31 Chase Road
College II

"Cal" is an alumnus of Kennedy Junior who likes a good fight and enjoys playing the drums. This brown-eyed senior savors "everything edible" and is fond of vacations of any kind. Chips knows when "Cal" says "Fords go" he speaks from experience as a car-speed-equipment-salesman and owner. Although he is undecided about the future, we wish him every success.

GEORGE CAMPBELL
173 Newton Street
College I

Who can forget the football performances by No. 85? This brown-eyed sports enthusiast, usually seen with Buster, Johnny, and Zuke, rates English as his favorite subject and thinks Coach Kopp is the greatest. Best of luck in the future, George.

Activities: Hockey Team, 2, 3, 4; Football Team, 2, 3, 4; Honor Society, 3, 4.

KAREN CAMPBELL
4 Cedarcroft Lane
Business Stenographic

"Ask me if I care," calls Karen as she joins her friends Kathy, Diane, and Jean. At W.H.S. she particularly enjoys her shorthand class and vacations. We wish this senior the best of luck in the future in stenotype school.

ROBERT CAMPBELL
74 Cherry Street
College II

"No fooling," exclaims this hazel-eyed South Junior alumnus when asked if algebra I was his favorite class at W.H.S. "Soupy" enjoys the lunch periods and dismissal bells at W.H.S. He likes boats, girls, and working on cars. Ace, Rich, Greecy, and Chick know college is in this fellow's future.

RODNEY W. CAMPBELL
74 Cherry Street
College II

"No fooling" muses "Soupy" as Ace, Rich, Greecy, and Chick join him in solving a problem of auto mechanics. Our hazel-eyed chocolate-cake devourer has college in mind for the future, perhaps with a major in math, his favorite W.H.S. subject.

SANDRA CAMUTI
12 Elson Road
College II

Who's the girl with the happy smile? It's Sandy Camuti, cheerleader and friend of Corrine and Judie. When not dashing from basketball games to cheering to student council and prom committee meetings, Sandy finds time to be art editor for the Mirror. College and a career in art are planned for this girl's future.

Activities: Cheerleader, 4; Home Room Representative, 3; Yearbook Art Staff, 2, 3, Art Editor, 4; Prom Committee, 3, 4; Dramatics Club, 2, 3, 4; Talent Show, 2, 3, 4.

DONNA CANE
45 Dobbins Street
Honors

"Hallelujah", sighs Donna when she sees that Marie, Stephanie, and Janet have saved her a seat at third lunch. Co-editing the Chi Sigma Gamma Newsletter and playing tennis take up this redhead's spare time. Next fall will find Donna in college, continuing her practice of chomping apples while reading or writing.

Activities: Literary Staff, 4; Newspaper Staff, 4; National Honor Society, 3, 4; German Club, 2, 3; Latin Club, 2; Chemistry Club, 3, 4; Chemistry Newsletter co-editor, 3, 4; Pep Squad, 2, 3, 4; Language Lab Assistant, 2, 3; Main Office Staff, 4; Sophomore House Office, 3.

JEAN CAPPADONA
653 Beaver Street
College II

"You'd better do it" says "Action" to Sue, Gilda, and Joan. This Kennedy Jr. high alumna will always remember gym, lunch, and typing classes at W.H.S. Jean, also known as Cappy, is fond of Italian food and watching the Hawks football games. Aquinas Secretarial School is on Jean's agenda.

LOUIS CASELLA
27 Gordod Street

College I

This brown-eyed alumnus of St. Charles loves the alternating schedule of Waltham High. Louie can usually be found bowling, playing pool, or eating a sizzling steak with Mario, Jimmie, and John. College, "Or what?" says Louie. We wish him the best of luck.

THERESA CELLUCCI
27 Friend Street

Business Clerical

Dances and fashion shows rate "A's" with "Terry," which is understandable because among her hobbies are dancing and sewing. This lobster addict hopes to become a dental assistant.

Activities: Italian Club 2; Chemistry Club, 3; Pep Squad, 3, 4.

MARIA LYNN CHAFFEE
130 Forest Street

Honors

Brown-haired, green-eyed "Chaf" found that the Talent Show was the best thing about W.H.S. This lively senior endorses Jello with nuts as her favorite food. "Chaf" enjoys many hobbies including tennis, swimming, and dancing. When not involved in the burden of homework, or in her activities "Chaf" fits in time for her favorite subject—English. College lies ahead for "Chaf" and we wish her the best of luck.

Activities: Mirror Literary Staff, 4; Talent Show Choreographer, 4; Senior play, 4.

"Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the world.
Then, and only then, shall ye have peace."

What better way to describe AFS program than through this old, but true Sanskrit saying? Before I came here, my Brazilian view of the United States and Americans was more a stereotype than a reality. The picture I had about the U.S. was partly prejudiced by the education I received at home. Thus, I saw Americans as supermen, very rich people whose biggest problem was to get to the moon before the Russians. Not only the people were different in my imagination, but also the cities. All I pictured was concrete and steel--big sky scrapers everywhere.

AFS experience changed my views. The everyday contact with American youth in school, social, and working situations made me feel a part of this rushing but friendly and close life. My opportunity to learn about American methods of teaching showed me a system different from what I had experienced before. Brazilian schools do not offer the young such a broad choice of courses through which the student can easily aim towards a career that best suits him. The assistance that each teacher gives to his students, handling such case as an individual and not as a collective problem, gives the feeling of sharing that is so important in building up a character. The friendship that many times develops from this student-teacher relationship helps bring a mature understanding of human relations. Now I realize that American school provide not only for technical training, but also for the formation of a string personality and character. These virtues are as importnat as technical achievement because only this way will mankind be able to talk together on the same cultural level and walk together down the same road towards what man has always sought: PEACE.

Francisco Havas

Assis, São Paulo Brazil ~ August 14, 1965

Dear kids,

Every one of us placed in Brazil believes that his family is the best and is the one family he would have chosen if he'd had the choice. I knew that of my family from the minute I met them. The cliché "They opened not only their home, but also their hearts" is no longer a cliché to me--it's the truth.

It was really difficult getting adjusted--I was so frustrated not to be able to speak fluent Portuguese immediately. Don't ever let anyone tell you it's a lot like Spanish! The most mortifying thing is to struggle to get out a simple phrase, and to have a three-year-old come along babbling in the right tenses, conjugations, and declensions! It's hard work learning a new language this way, and I can sure sympathize with those of you learning languages by ALM. Though it's easier now, at first I was truly mentally exhausted by the end of each day, for every nerve and sense is constantly alert to sounds. But it's the way to learn, and living a whole new existence, as I'm actually doing, is the most exciting and gratifying experience of my life.

We just returned from a week in São Paulo, Brazil's largest city. (I thought it was Rio de Janeiro, but S.P. is up on Rio by a full million people!) São Paulo looks just like New York, except that the signs are not in English. There's one favorite place of mine in the city--a traffic circle with a monument to President Kennedy in its center. There were fresh flowers on it every time we passed. I was so proud that an American president had gained the love and respect of so many foreigners; and, for the first time, I was really aware of being an American.

It's unbelievable how the weeks have slipped by--I almost dreaded coming, and now I don't know how I'll ever be able to leave. Somehow, before I came, I couldn't help thinking of the Brazilians in connection with Amazon jungle savages--even though I knew they were civilized. They're far from savages: they're the most wonderful, sincerely warm people I've met, and they have a tremendous will to build a strong, free country. They look toward the United States for guidance, and from the looks of the success they've already tasted, we should expect great things from them. I hope we can live up to their expectations, for their standards are very high.

The summer is nearly ended, and though I haven't had time to be homesick, I'm looking forward to coming home now so I can tell you all about lge here as I've seen it and lived it. There's a word in Portugese for which there is no real English translation: SAUDADE. It means a sort of homesickness or longing for something passed or something or someone left behind. I know even now that I'll experience "imensas saudades" for this land and its people--from the time I leave until I can return.

Até logo ('Til soon),

"Where's the slave auction and the olympics?" "There's no such thing in the new Amici Latini since it's changed. We now have celebrations, parties, and conventions." These are typical comments from the old and new members of the Latin Club. The activities have changed under the new officers—Gregory McElroy, President; Joseph Saulnier, Vice-president; Constance McElroy, Treasurer; and our illustrious Secretary John Clark, alias Pater Saturnalia.

Future Nurses of America

The F.N.A. was begun at Waltham High in 1965 to enable students who are interested in nursing to pursue their chosen profession. It is open to all students who are interested in a nursing career. During the past year the club has been invited to visit numerous hospitals. The F.N.A. has also had movies and guest speakers to answer any questions that have arisen concerning the nursing vocation.

Future Teachers of America

The Future Teachers of America Club, under the direction of Miss Tahaney and Miss Dolan, meets every other Tuesday to plan activities pertaining to the field of teaching. This year's activities have included a panel discussion on The Practice Teaching Experience by four girls from Lesley College and decoration of the Warren School at Christmas for the retarded children.

The Waltham High chapter of J.E.T.S. or the Junior Engineering Technical Society was organized in November, 1965, as the result of interest shown by numerous science students. Included in the nationwide J.E.T.S. organization, the Waltham chapter enables its members to receive scientific publications and to participate in activities such as science seminars and talent searches. This club will provide an excellent chance for Waltham High students to organize projects or field trips pertaining to science or engineering.

Highlighting a late season drive, including a 3-0 win over arch rival Newton, the Waltham High Pucksters, for the third consecutive year, entered The State Hockey Tourney, this time with a respectable record of nine wins, four losses, and one tie. Led by the high-scoring unit of co-captain Jim Lexander, Steve Hardy and junior Edgar Bastarache, the team enjoyed a successful season. Seniors Kevin Fahey and Bob LaCroix split the goal-tending chores, and did a fine job. After a 2-1 win over powerful Arlington in the junior-sophomore game, Coach Walter Brinn eyes next year's season with confidence.

Cross Country

This year the Waltham High Cross Country team enjoyed a very successful campaign for the 1965 season winning all 8 of its meets. Main factors contributing to this feat were the outstanding leadership of Captain Tom Wheeler and the team's excellence in distance running. Coach Lee Gould is sure to miss the services of Lester Evans, Don Ricciato, Rich Nangle, Don Merida, Dick Shuman, Rich Cooney, Jim Shea and Don Demoy.

After a relatively slow start, the Waltham Tracksters overcame weaknesses and inexperience to become a worthy representative in the Metropolitan Track League. The season was climaxed by their sensational victory over perennial track-power Rindge Technical, and the outstanding performances of Don Ricciato. Don won the class A state meet, finished second in their all class B.A.A. games, and was invited to represent Massachusetts in the Eastern Track Championships held in New York.

Coach Lee Gould and captain Don Merida were extremely proud of the performances of the team during the season and praised their drive and spirit.

Among the records broken during the season were the mile by Rich Nangle and the 1000 by Don Ricciato.

The history of Waltham High began in 1832 with the construction of a building on the corner of Lexington and School Streets. Until 1849, when the town administrative officials moved from this building to the present site of City Hall, this building was shared by the administrators, grammar school, and high school.

Waltham High became a separate school in 1869 with the joint construction of North Grammar School and a new high school building at the corner of Church and School Streets.

Waltham dedicated the central portion of our present school building on April 14, 1903. To this, two wings were added in 1935. Waltham High remained essentially the same until lack of space necessitated the addition of our "new wing" and cafeteria in 1962.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1966

We, the imperishable members of the Class of 1966 of Waltham High School, possessing a minimal degree of sanity and fleeting control of our faculties, do hereby declare and assert this document to be our last Will and Testament.

To the Student Body: An elastic School.

To all senior homeroom teachers: Classrooms full of callow sophomores who statistically should average 4 feet 2 ¾ inches in height.

To Mr. May: A person to hold the cue cards for all his end-of-the-day announcements.

To Mr. Levey, who is the first WHS housemaster to go through three years with the same class: A purple heart.

To Mr. Morang: A CPO jacket of his very own to wear on cafeteria duty.

To Mr. Belliveau, Waltham High School's professor-housemaster: 632 dog tags for all his nameless juniors.

To Mrs. Hughes: Curtains for her secluded little cubicle.

To Mr. Eames: An air filter to keep out the smell of burning sulphur and overripe petri dishes.

To Mr. Hood: More elbow room to move about in—larger book-room facilities to accomodate the expanding literary program.

To Mr. Lynch: A racing stripe for "Supercar" and a leather bound volume with the list of all colleges using Protter and Morrey calculus. Since this is a rather large gift, we leave him only a part of it.

To Mrs. Moore: A robot to handle all her supplies, books and keys.

To Miss McCullough: A pocket-size TV so she won't miss the 12 o'clock news.

To Miss Betts: A custom-made green version of her favorite beret.

To Miss Madden: An endless supply of cookies and cakes for all those receptions in the future.

To Mr. Chapman, whose office is getting smaller and smaller: A stone wall to stop further invasions.

To the Girls' Gym teachers: A group speaker to go along with gang showers.

To the Boys' Gym teachers: A dozen new yardsticks.

To Coach Kopp: A three-foot victory cigar and a whole squadron of unbreakable quarterbacks.

To Coach Prohovich: A dictionary of Brooklynese including his favorite dese's and dose's.

To Mrs. E. Johnson and Mrs. Carney for 18 years of service with the same sons—congratulations!

To Mrs. Flynn, teacher-librarian and her Library staff: A bouncer for those overcrowded library periods.

To Mr. Thibault and Mr. Richman, Student Council advisers: A handbook on how to run that "most powerful student organization in the school".

To Miss Mooney: A class full of gum-chewers to make her Red Cross box overflow with fines.

To Dr. Kubin: A fattening supply of phosphoglyceraldihyde or in "udder words," food.

To Mr. Hendry: That he may enjoy the basketball games occasionally with an automatic ticket machine, coin-operated.

To Mrs. Dorin: Rubber file boxes that bounce instead of crash.

To Mr. Daniels: A scooter to save wear and tear on the feet.

To Miss Devane: A "down" button for her elevator shoes.

To Mr. Wielletta: To protect his eyes from the bright, sunny glare of the building after emerging from the dark, dungeony depths of S 09-8 010—a pair of adjustable contact lenses.

To Mr. Quinn: A gold-plated dictionary and a tape recorder to give his lectures for him.

To Miss Tahaney and Miss Hogarty: Two tall, dark and handsomes.

To Mr. Amrhein: A mansion for his dogs.

To Miss Beaulne: Another new way to spell her name—B-O-N-E.

To Mr. Harding: A long list of unemployed seniors to help him fill his requests from industry.

To Miss Tabor: A blueberry gun to threaten interruptions in her class.

To Mr. French: An honorary lifetime membership in the Young Democrats of America.

To Mr. McCloskey: The maschine shop left in "pretty good shape".

To Miss Needham: A date with Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa.

To Miss Reimerdes: A two-week vacation in Colorado and an ace bandage.

To Mr. LeFlem: Dr. Stetina as a language lab assistant.

To Mr. Fitzgerald: A. calendar marking ever minute of his busy day.

To Mr. Vallely: An Italian leprechaun to wipe the chalk dust away.

To Miss Murray: A minature diner in the busy Senior House office so she won't have to scurry to lunch every day.

To Mr. Van Arsdale, our Vocational School Director: The gift of an automatic extractor to pull out those boys who may give him trouble in the future—and best wishes from the Class of 1966.

To Mr. Gallagher, whose kindness and consideration will act as an inspiration for all the headmasters to come: our respect, thanks and affection. Of these three, the greatest is affection; for we, as his last graduating class, wish to bear witness to the unselfish devotion he has shown to all the students at Waltham High School.

We, the undersigned, do appoint as executors Miss Darmedy, Mr. Winchell and Mrs. Shirley; given in the year of the Great Northeast Blackout, one thousand nine hundred sixty-six.

Class History

Prologue

Members of the Class of 1966: For the past three years you have unknowingly been the constant antagonists of T.H.W.A.R.T., an organization formulated for THE HARD WAR AGAINST REVOLUTIONARY TEENAGERS. You are about to hear the full report of the T.H.W.A.R.T. agent (whose name must be kept secret for reasons of security) to his unyielding superiors. After receiving his report, they will decide his fate.

OPERATION "0066" T.H.W.A.R.T. REPORT

I first made contact with the Class of 1966 on a warm September morn in 1963, when I was sent by T.H.W.A.R.T. to investigate rumors that the incoming sophomores of Waltham High School were displaying not the customary aura of timidity shown in the past by sophomores, but definite signs of revolutionary confidence marking a new generation!

The first indication I observed of their frightening promise was the students' enthusiasm for several courses in the curriculum, including Russian, Spanish, Italian, speech, journalism, creative writing, and data processing, all being offered for the first time.

Much to the disgust and chagrin of T.H.W.A.R.T., Waltham was all too successful in sports, having three teams win tournament berths during that '63-'64 season. The basketball team, under rookie coach Don Prohovich (former Holy Cross antagonist of T.H.W.A.R.T.) compiled a 13-7 record to bag its first Tech Tourney start since 1957. The hockey team with its 10-3-1 season, which I disdainfully concede was tremendous, reached the first round of the State Hockey Tournament. The baseball team, dubbed the "Hitless Wonders" gladdened the hearts of all Waltham High students and faculty and frustrated our subversive efforts by becoming the co-champions of the Suburban League and triumphing over Chicopee to capture the 1964 Massachusetts State Baseball Championship, thereby winning a trip to the New York World's Fair.

You masterminds here at T.H.W.A.R.T. will remember how you breathed a sigh of relief as the exuberant Class of 1966 dispersed for the summer, and how we all thought of the coming September with growing apprehension.

Living up to most fearful expectations, the class returned as juniors to continue to thwart T.H.W.A.R.T.! As their first actions of the school year, they formed new clubs to satisfy their diverse interests, and elected class officers: President, John Graceffa; Vice-president, Douglas Tierney; Secretary, Sally Gorgone; and Treasurer, Jacqueline Vautour.

Junior Achievement was introduced at W.H.S. and proved to be a boon to the capitalistic-minded students and unfortunately to the American way of industrial management. The influence Waltham High radiated southward with Eileen O'Neill as she we to the ROJAC convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Eileen al brought honor to the school through her selection as the Bost delegation's corresponding secretary.

The juniors weren't content with just regional honors; th went after national honors, too, with the induction of 35 membe into the National Honor Society. And Steven Hardy, one of t newly-elected members, had the absolute audacity to win the P
Beta Kappa Award—something we could do nothing about.

Cynthia Montgomery brought further glory to the class
winning the Good Speech Award at the New England Dran Festival.

It was at this time that T.H.W.A.R.T. began a series of bon scares in a desperate, but futile measure to halt '66 progress.

By February, the members of the devastating class were ready relax at their Junior Prom "Made in Japan," under the compete direction of Chairman John Graceffa and Junior Housemaster
Joseph Levey. As you know, T.H.W.A.R.T. nearly succeeded in havi the Prom cancelled by what proved to be an inadequate last-minu bomb scare.

T.H.W.A.R.T. eyebrows were raised at the mass amount of mon won by Janet Benger, David Keeler, Sheila Burns, and Maria Chaff as first prize winners in the annual Kingsbury Temperance Ess Contest, and beads of perspiration and green complexions we prevalent at T.H.W.A.R.T. headquarters as even more studer received awards for their talents. Janet Blasioli, Karen Frostig, Sand Camuti, and Forest Beaton were presented art awards; Willia
Madden, Warren Dow, Deborah Lester, Donald Gage, and Berna
Cassie were invited to play in the Northeast District Concert. Furth disheartening to T.H.W.A.R.T., Warren and William were accept into the extremely selective Allstate Band.

T.H.W.A.R.T. agents at Bridgewater State College were unab to extract the success formula of the class of 1966 from Girls' Sta representative Marion Cutting. Those agents at the University Massachusetts had no better luck with Boys' State delegate Grego McElroy.

The cloud of depression hung even lower over T.H.W.A.R.T. hea quarters as the sports report came in. Nearly every team had winning season, and the delighted students chose the name HAW for the teams to hang on their banners. Girls' basketball and volle ball teams, also on the ball had winning seasons, and were giv
the name HAWKETTES. The revival of tennis proved discouragi to T.H.W.A.R.T. for the team not only had a winning season, b also gained the Suburban League title, regretfully undefeated.

A barrage of awards heaped on the class members at this time, made T.H.W.A.R.T. thankful that the year was about to end. Hope waned as we observed Deborah Brackett and Arnold Epstein receive acceptance for summer science study by Thayer Academy. John Bray was selected for summer history study as Tufts University, and American Field Service International Exchange Program chose Charlotte Katz to spend her summer in Brazil, and even T.H.W.A.R.T. agents were unable to keep her under constant surveillance.

We watched the 1965 graduation exercises with further trepidation as junior Joseph Qualitz was presented the Harvard Book, and classmates John Bray and Hugh Masterman were cited as outstanding history students.

Aware that we were running out of time in our battle against the Class of 1966, we frantically spent the summer devising insidious super-weapons, such as ejector-desks, poison pens, and presigned corridor passes—anything we could think of to thwart the American educational system.

But their progress persisted. The students were offered bigger and better courses including art appreciation and Chinese history to stimulate their world-encompassing interests. With a definite determination to advance intellectually, John Kromer, Janet Benger, Stephanie Casale, Deborah Brackett, Albert Namias, Philip Slotnick, John Archdeacon, John Clarke, and Bruce Rosen took advantage of the Brandeis University offer to allow them to participate in some of the University's courses.

The Chester Webb family greeted American Field Service exchange student, Francisco Havas from Sao Paulo, Brazil, and the class elected their permanent officers: President, John Graceffa; Vice-President, Douglas Tierney; Secretary, Sally Gorgone; and Treasurer, Joan Callahan.

In an intellectual vein, the Junior Engineering and Technical Society was formed, and Deborah Brackett and Hugh Masterman achieved National Merit Finalist ratings. Waltham High again contributed to the success of the ROJAC convention by sending delegates Betty DeWolfe and Paul Bergeson.

Socially speaking, we were sure our beautiful T.H.W.A.R.T. agents would outclass all female opposition from 0066; however, we were foiled again as Marjorie Short, Maria Lynn Chaffee, and Cynthia Rainis became semi-finalists in the Miss Teenage Boston competition.

Infiltration by the two Radio Free Waltham sources—"This Week at Waltham High," edited by Sheila Burns, Charlotte Katz and Ellen Salo, and "The Reflector," edited by Joseph Qualitz—brought concern to the hearts of you masterminds. But strangely enough, you almost seemed to enjoy the Senior Play, "You Can't Take It With You," under the student direction of Michael O'Neill, and the annual A.F.S. Talent Show, "Tel-a-Rama," directed by David Keeler!

Other honors bestowed upon the students were: the Sons of Italy Excellence in Italian award, presented to Marie Composto; the D.A.R. award, given to Donna Harris; and a nomination for the Jewish War Veterans Brotherhood award, won by Carl Crockford. At the State Speech Festival, Stephanie Casale won a gold medal, while Albert Namais and John Clarke, and Michael Tierney were selected to participate in the Student Town-City Exchange Program.

Waltham was infuriatingly triumphant in all its athletic endeavors. The football team, with co-captains Vincent "Skip" Vaccarello and Steven Hardy, was undefeated and shared the Class A Championship with Everett. The highlight of the season was Waltham's first Homecoming parade, game, and dance, during which Donna Harris presided as Homecoming Queen. The track, rifle, and basketball teams were highly successful, while the morale of the swim team was kept high by outstanding individual performances. The hockey team led by co-captains James Lexander and Erland Hardy again entered the Hockey Tournament, and advanced farther in this competition than ever before.

The hyperthyroid Waltham High cheerleaders, noisily captained by Corrine Brown and Judith Cain, were experiencing their first year under the new cheerleader code.

For the first time, the Senior Prom left the confines of Waltham High to be held at the King Philip in Wrenthem and along with Class Day and Graduation, dramatically terminated the senior year.

I must therefore conclude (A) that "Operation 0066" was a complete and miserable failure; (B) that we were unable to thwart the Class of '66; and (C) that we of T.H.W.A.R.T. can have no hope of suppressing the success of the Class of 1966 in the future.

Submitted by agent — of T.H.W.A.R.T.

Epilogue: The unyielding superiors of said agent heard his report and decided his fate. Said agent is no longer with T.H.W.A.R.T., although we know it was not his fault!

Aqua City

The multi-billion dollar contract for the building of Aqua City was given in 1977 to the engineering firm of St. Armand, Dow & Muise. It was designed by John Graceffa and Eugene Stephens, and the actual living areas subcontracted by Scanlon & son.

Aqua City, in itself, is totally unique. It is a city of dreams such as those conceived by Mr. Foley during C block. The metropolis is an undersea port located 9,654 feet below the surface of the Atlantic Ocean, midway between Dublin and New York. Air pressure is kept constant by the supplied pressure from New York, Dublin, London, Lisbon, and Paris. Heat is solar and electricity comes by the newly-introduced air-induction conducting system designed by Bruce Rosen.

Aqua City is without traffic jams, thanks to the administration of Richard Vittum, who, in '79, put in a flawless system of tracks for cars entering and leaving the city. All Aqua City was perfect, until the evening of November 9, 1980, the night of the big crack.

The great hum of the air purifiers rose to a frenzied pitch in the maintenance room where Louis Amelia worked. It was a day like any other day in Aqua City in 1980, only this day was to present a great catastrophe to the vast underwater metropolis. The people of Aqua City were going about their everyday tasks. Pat O'Brien's Gilded Fish Dancers, Cathy Attardo, Carol Staber, Carleen Fuller, and MaryAnn LeBlanc, were rehearsing their new underwater dance, the Tripe. Robert Arsenault, head of the Merman Police Force, and his lieutenants, Charles Manero, Francis Rigoli, and David Peace, made their routine check of the city. Nuclear physicist Carlo DiGiusto was busy in his lab working on an experiment in which he would transfer Ernest Bergstrom's brain into the body of a tuna fish. Mike Guzzi and Bob Gorman put the finishing touches on their underwater sled which cost three million dollars to construct and which was financed by millionaire Mike DiGregory.

Baracuda University's president, Deborah Brackett, in affiliation with Aqua High's principal, Paul Bergeson, had just agreed to make available to the high school students the Barracuda Tutor Service. The original Barracuda Tutor, Paul Clare, fully equipped with beard, dirty sweatshirt, jeans, and sandals, had been making great progress with John Archdeacon Jr.'s chemistry homework.

The Russian Ambassador of Aqua City, Vladimir Klimovicz and his assistant, Stephanie Casale, had just embarked aboard the S.S. Super Sub designed by that nautical genius, Buddy Lord, on the 19th attempt to convince Russian officials to free Aqua City's Aquanauts, James Davis and Rodney Campbell, from their prison crater on the moon. The following ultimatum was offered. If the prisoners were not released within one week, daring underwater F.B.I. agent, Martha Johnson, would be personally flown to the moon camp via collapsible pocket rocket, and proceed to destroy the entire Russian forces there while rescuing the pair. The F.B.I.-Fish Bones Investigators never fail!

Dentist, David Ramey, amused his patients, Janice Pottker and Lynn MacArthur, with impersonations, while his assistant Barbara Tushin hypnotized a prospective patient, Marie Composto, in th chair so the doctor could begin work.

The Annual Secretarial Convention was being held at the Elect Eel Hotel owned by Tom Keilty, and managed by Fern Tanner. T convention had just begun when executive secretary Donna Ma Millan arrived chewing a package of Wrigley's Spearmint gu Following Donna came Margaret Kaszubski and Terry Chiasson, leg secretaries in the firm of Richard Nicholas & Associates. Next Audr Lalongo, Linda Leblanc, and Linda MacLennan, reporters from T Daily Splash, walked down the aisle to their reserved seats. T noise subsided considerably as all eyes turned toward Betty La rabee who was wearing an Aqua City Original created by fashi designer Kathleen Nicotera. Then entered the guest speakers Catherine Coutu, who planned to speak on her memories of Ne Hampshire; and Kate Mahoney, famous for her speeches on majes Arizona. As Andrew Lawson adjusted the microphone to make an a nouncement, Paula Porier and Susan Giardina quietly walk down the aisle looking for a seat, explaining to Maria Cristofo that their seamobile, designed by William Walker, had run out fuel midway between Lisbon and Aqua City. If it had not be for the constant patrolling of the Atlantic Ocean by Mermen Polic they might never have been discovered. They spotted a seat ne Maureen O'Connell, secretary to the president of the Brent Bonn man Office Equipment Corporation. The main speaker Audr Gustavson proceeded, as secretary Andrea Bernardi took down t final minutes of the meeting.

All the citizens of the Aqua City are indebted to Paul Corbet ingenious postal system which was built by the Roger Lebla Construction Company. Mail sent from Dublin or New York reach Aqua City at the incredibly fast rate of one minute when se through pneumatic tubes which line the ocean floor. The mail then sorted by the postal staff consisting of Judy MacDonald, Ma Skane, and Dotty Yeo. Bobby Bass, when not absorbed in drawi optical illusions, places the mail on conveyor belts to be sent branch offices, and from there the mail is diligently transported homes by postal engineers, Lester Evans and Bobby Parvenick.

Meanwhile, Sally Giacosanzio, an expert in foreign languages, w engaged in a heated discussion with Bill Edmonds, the Chairm of the English Department at Aqua City University. Sally wanted have not only English but also the "dead" languages, which h been so popular a few years ago, taught at Aqua City Universi She even had a list of prospective professors and their fields: Ca Chaisson—German, Bernice Gaudet—French, Joe Franco—Spanish, a Leah Policronis—Greek.

Back in Kathleen D'Acunto's restaurant, all was quiet. Waitre Diane Iaguli had just served an Octopus Float to ex-bartender Bi Boisvert, who was looking for work. Tom Jenkins was home watchi Paul Monahan's T.V. show, and Aqua City's number one disc jock Vinnie Famosi was on the air. Water polo stars John Kavales David Chaisson, and Jim Lexander were practicing for the cha pionship meet. Bill McQuiggan, star of that new movie Batman Meets Whale Woman, was making a personal appearance at Aqua City's ultracinematic movie theater, which featured 3-D, smellovision, tasteovision, feelovision, and thinkovision.

These people were going about their typical tasks, unaware of the brooding cancer that was about to threaten them and their community beneath the ocean. The great plastic bubble that covered the city was weakened under the massive pressure of tons of water.

Dr. Gary Uhlig had been warning the city officials for months that doom was inevitable unless steps were taken to reinforce the huge structure. Distinguished lady scientist Susan Chane had submitted a plan to the city council, but the council headed by Kenneth Vienneau, rejected the plan considering it a "foolish waste of time."

The first signs of danger were observed on the outer rim of the city by the customers of that famous action spot, "Barnacle A-Go-Go." Inside the club, owned by Mr. John Gollinger, go-go girls Margaret Murphy and Sally Gorgone were dancing to the sounds of William Condon's band. Drummer Richard Ponte had just finished a twenty minute solo when in through the door rushed an excited Veronica Murphy, who screamed, "There's a crack in the bubble!" The A-Go-Go-girls, Marcia Stewart, Sally Collura, Donna Lembo, Carol Clark, and Dorinne Doucet, rushed off the stage screaming while managers Steve Behnke and Richard Nangle (who was in charge of issuing the keys, a tradition begun back in 1966 by something called a bunny club) were trying to reassure the frantic girls. Rushing outside were eminent playboys, John Carney, Rick Adams, and Bob Fasulo, stunned to see water seeping through a split in the plastic bubble.

Immediately, upon hearing of the break, Mayor Vittum contacted Alan Amiralian President of the United States by urgent telegram to inform him of the dilemma. Struck by the weight of this tremendous problem, President Amiralian summoned his most trusted White House Aid, Doug Tierney, to his private office. After forty-eight hours of strained seclusion, the pair arrived at a momentous decision. "This is an emergency!"

The Daily Splash lost no time in recording events. Staff photographers, William Lyons and Gary Freedman, were snapping pictures from the 91st floor of the John Haddock Building. Ellen Salo, editor-in-chief, rushed between the secretaries of her staff, Babara Hines and Mary Cincotta, trying to keep things in order.

Fashion Coordinator, Diane Gleason, to announce the imminent danger, burst onto the floor of her fashion show in which Joan Callahan and Pat Scannell were modeling her spring collection of "Underwater Undies," throwing the ladies into spasms of hysteria. Little Steph Ballo, injured in the stampede to the exits, was rushed to Aqua General Hospital where her nurse, Julie Taranto, reported her in good condition. Steph was surprised to see her old classmate Beverly Laforte who was the head nurse, talking to Janis Gallagher, the nurse at the desk. All at once patients Alan Hopwood, Martha Issacson, and Donna Morine rang their emergency bells to find out what was going on.

Panic had spread like a contagious disease throughout Aqua City. The modern systems were breaking down from the overload on the emergency generators. Suddenly, Frank Uttaro, driving his 1972 Juicemobile, was hurtled sixty feet from his car and landed in the arms of Christine Sennett, who immediately reported him to Lost and Found. Dogcatcher Bill Madden and model Margie Short were tuning up their tuba and guitar for the Annual Amateur Percussion Competition when the lights went out. Said Bill to Margie diplomatically, "Hey, the lights went out!" The highway tracks were stilled. Joe Juppe and Reggie Cormier on their way to Paris because they couldn't get enough of that Sugar Crisp, were stalled a mile below the surface of the Atlantic, and had to sustain themselves on Camuti and Brown's crisp and brown cookies and brownies.

Street lamps were being repaired by John Steber, city light bulb replacer, who was making little headway. Paul Howes and John Burns, electrical contractors, were called in to check for short circuits. Robert Desimone, safety engineer, and Jack Evans and Tom Abel of the fire department's electrical division, set out to fix the machinery that ran the air purifying system. Bobby Code and Bob Wheeler, eminent breathing experts, made sure the air supply was kept constant.

One by one, as the power of the generators diminished, the soft glow of lamps turned to darkness. Automobiles were lined up thousands of miles on all five of the tunnel tracks. All lights went out. The tunnels were black. The air inside the huge encasement became stale. The people, in their confusion, went back to their homes and sat silently, waiting for the end, realizing that the second panic would be fatal to all. Water stopped dripping; children stopped crying. Only Ken Bardsley, Rick Catino, and Bob Passerello could be heard, rolling dice down in the back of the Barnacle.

Silence. Stagnation interrupted only when Bucky Whitney, in trying to repair the traffic signals, turned every stop light in the city green. The jam remained when the power was shut off again. All was more still and silent.

Ann Quirk sent in a mercenary army under the command of that great strategist Barb Leard, but to no avail. If Aqua City was not destroyed by flood, it would be destroyed by its own inhabitants.

Mayor Richard Vittum sent out an urgent plea for help and finally help came. An anonymous genius had discovered a way to patch the crack in the bubble. It was a daring plan that called for the services of a daring underwater expert, so naturally the one man for the job was Ralph Gaudet. All Aqua City had their fingers crossed as Ralph went through the air lock with the new type of plastic cement that the anonymous scientist had discovered. Tense hours later the ordeal was over. The crack was sealed, and Aqua City was saved. Cries of praise went up for the unknown scientist. Who was this genius who had saved the city? An announcement went out over all TV stations in Aqua City for this great man to show himself and receive due credit. The next day a sealed envelope was delivered to the mayor's office. In an official ceremony the envelope was opened by the mayor on a special mid-morning Gallagher-Levey Broadcast. The eyes and ears of Aqua City were upon the mayor as he read the message from their unknown benefactor. The letter read simply: "COMPLIMENTS OF RUDY BICKLE."

Acknowledgments

Without the aid of the many people who assisted us, producing a yearbook such as this one, the 1966 Mirror, would be an insurmountable task. We would now like to acknowledge the efforts of all those who helped.

First, our special thanks go to our advisors, Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Neylon, who have given so much of their own time during the past months.

For the artwork all through the Mirror, we thank the art staff which worked under the guidance of their advisor, Mr. Shea.

For her many hours of patience while we used the office equipment, our thanks go to Mrs. Hughes.

For the fine photography throughout this yearbook, we acknowledge the work of Russo Studio and Warren Kay Vantine Studios. Also we especially thank Gary Freedman, Bob Kelner, Don Gage, and Joe Franco, the members of the Photography Club.

Finally, our thanks go to the Mirror staff, who worked to put out this, the best Mirror yet.

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone Company . . . New England's largest employer.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

CONGRATULATIONS...

(and by the way, what are your plans for 1970?)

If they include a college degree in applied mathematics, physics, or engineering, we would like to invite you to consider a career with Raytheon Company, four years from now.

As one of the world's most diversified scientific-industrial companies, Raytheon's need for qualified college graduates in the fields of data processing, communications, components, appliances, and education is growing as fast as the challenges in these areas.

If you think you might enjoy working with us, we'll be waiting for your call . . . in 1970.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1966

We knew you once as children,
And watched you learn and grow.
We see you now as young adults,
As down life's road you go.
Your future lies before you;

It's yours to shape and mold.
Remember all that you have learned,
For knowledge is pure gold.

It's a shaky world you venture in,
We need the eyes of youth;
To guide us and to lead us,
In the ways of peace and truth.

We wish you well, Class of '66,
As you face the future's gates.
It's yours to do with what you will—
Good Luck, young graduates!

HEADMASTER

[illegible]

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF [illegible]:

I should like to address a message to a truly [illegible] class.

You and your parents, your teachers and your friends live in the dawn of a new world. All are bound up in you. It is for you, above all, that we are working and trying to make a better world.

This is not an easy task. It has never been easy to be just and good; and in our modern world the problems become increasingly complex, and increasingly difficult to resolve.

But never before has the world offered such great possibilities for invention and progress.

The key which will unlock the door to the vast treasures of science and culture is education. And I would like you to think of education as exactly that [illegible]: not a passing [illegible] imposed on you, something you have to put up with for a few years.

School is just the first step on the road towards a full life.

I sincerely hope you will be determined to take the fullest possible advantage of the education offered to you. It is the [illegible] of all mankind in the struggle against ignorance, prejudice and [illegible].

Education is a right that all should enjoy; it is also a privilege. It is not every child who has the chance that you have had to go to school. Today there are more than one hundred million children who have not even seen a school nor a teacher [illegible] in their country [illegible].

I invite you to [illegible] work with renewed courage to [illegible] from the shadows of ignorance.

It has been a privilege to serve you as your headmaster the past [illegible] years. And good luck to all of you.

Yours sincerely,

W. J. Gallagher
William J. Gallagher

They Knew What to Do

Good deeds, done voluntarily and with no thought of reward, represent the richest of all personal philanthropy. When they are contributed by young people it makes all of us who have faith in the essential goodness of youth feel particularly happy.

. . . Then, on the holiday, a small band of Waltham High School students demonstrated resourcefulness and courage when a girl member of their hiking expedition suffered a leg injury. Six boys acquired a stretcher, retraced steps up Mt. Monadnock, a cold, perilous trip in darkness. Girls assisted with flashlights on the descent in a rescue mission which took five hours.

Back home parents were understandably worried as time passed. When all was over they had reason to be proud of how their teen-agers had responded to an emergency.

The delinquents, draft-card burners, and the oddballs give the younger generation a black eye. It takes instances such as these to prove that most of the boys and girls are well motivated and ready to give the best that's in them when the occasion requires.
